Parent/Teacher Conferences

I am excited to be hosting our goal-setting conferences on Wednesday, November 6th from 4-8pm, and all day Thursday, November 7th from 10am-8pm. I have a lot of information to share in just a little bit of time. The schedule will be packed tight, so I appreciate your punctuality. If you happen to be delayed, I will most likely not be able to extend your conference time, but will provide an abbreviated conference.

At the conference, I will share assessments of your child's academic skills and a few goals in some key areas. Remember that the first grade student does not attend the conference, although you might complete an optional Goals Homework together with him/her (a tall white paper included in the Oct. 31st Friday Folder).

Please get in touch if you need to change your scheduled conference day/time at the last minute as I may miss that on the Sign-Up Genius. Thank you and see you soon!

Art Literacy

Each month in Art Literacy, our class will spend time learning artistic terms and creating a project inspired by a famous artist. This October, we learned about the great American architect, Frank Lloyd Wright. Wright is commonly known as the father of modern architecture, with famous homes and buildings around the country.

The students took their own turn becoming architects. They used block sets, similar to the one Wright's mother gave him, to build their homes. Utilizing geometric shapes, the students made homes worthy of any of us and created drawings to match what they had built.

This lesson was taught by Rosshalde Pak with the help of class parents Tiffany LaParne, Joanna Paes, Rosshalde Pak, and Lan Xu.

THANK YOU!
